HCC Libraries

- Each campus has a library that provides materials to support the college curriculum. The collections include print and electronic books, current periodicals, subscription academic databases, and audiovisual materials.

- Each library provides computer workstations to access databases and the Internet. The HCC Library website (http://hccfl.edu/library) provides access to both HCC and statewide college and university library holdings. It also serves as a gateway to article databases containing both full text and bibliographic information. These databases are available to HCC students with a valid student identification card. The library website links to email reference assistance and to a variety of guides designed for student use.

- An audiovisual laboratory containing CDs, DVDs, and more is housed at most libraries. In addition, HCC libraries provide access to thousands of streaming videos through several video databases.

- Each library maintains a reserve collection that includes materials identified by HCC instructors for students’ use in the library.

- Instruction in the use of library resources is provided by faculty librarians to classes on a scheduled basis, to individuals at the point of use, and by appointment. Librarians and skilled support staff are available to assist with research and the utilization of library resources and technologies.

- HCC participates in reciprocal borrowing with USF and other publicly funded community colleges and universities in Florida. Interlibrary loan further enhances the availability of resources for students.

- Library hours vary by campus and are posted at each site. Additional information about library services and links to library resources are available at the library website. Library services is extended until midnight on weeknights, and more, by the “Ask a Librarian” statewide reference service.
The HCC Library website provides access to print materials and electronic resources. Access these resources at http://hccfl.edu/library. The borrower ID is your HCC Student ID number and the PIN is the last four digits of that same number. Change your PIN within “My Account.”
