Question #8

Where are the books?
Here are the books ...

- Reserve: 2nd floor, Circulation/Reserve desk
- Reference: 2nd floor, Reference area
- Circulation: 3rd floor
- Leisure/Graphic Novels: 2nd floor, Book Displays
What do you mean by “Reference” anyway?
Reference books

- Reference books are compilations of organized information or useful facts.
- They are used for specific details rather than read from beginning to end. Examples include encyclopedias, dictionaries, atlases, etc.
Where do I go to get books and articles left in the library from my professor?
Reserve

- Books and other material placed in library by your professor for your class.
- Obtain reserve material at the Circulation/Reserves desk.
- HawkCard required for checkout.
- May only be used in the library.
Question #11

How long can I check out books? Suppose I need it for longer? Is there a fine if they are overdue?
Circulated books

- Circulated books check out for two weeks. Extensions may be granted for items that do not have a hold request from another patron.

- Books not returned within 30 days of the due date are assessed a replacement fee to the borrower. Fees may hamper ability to register for classes or obtain transcript or diploma.
Question #12

How does the Library of Congress call number work to find the book I need?
Library of Congress (LC) Classification System

- Books are organized systematically: subject, author, title, year.
- LC like Dewey Decimal is a method of classifying books by subject. They are assigned a call number so that they are easily found on the shelf.
How do I find books in the library?
When you’re looking for a book in the online library database, the most important information you will need is the call number. The call number will tell you where to find the book on the shelf.
